PREFACE

IN 1926, the American Jewish Historical Society published An American Jewish Bibliography, being a list of books and pamphlets by Jews or relating to them printed in the United States from the establishment of the press in the colonies until 1850. This work was prepared by the distinguished bibliographer, Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach. It is an exceedingly useful handbook, an invaluable aid for students of American Jewish history.

Dr. Rosenbach was quite correct when he wrote in his Preface that he "does not for a moment think that the work is at all complete . . . he is fully aware that there are many titles yet to be listed."

The purpose of this monograph—prepared at the request of the American Jewish Archives—is to supplement, in part, the older work of "Dr. R."

Please bear in mind that it was not the intention of the compilers of this list to prepare a bibliography of all additional printed Jewish Americana to 1850 that have since come to light. The scope of this work is limited to those books, pamphlets, and articles that are in the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion Library in Cincinnati but have not been described by Rosenbach.

The initial "R" in the descriptive notes refers to Rosenbach's An American Jewish Bibliography.

There now remains for me the pleasant task of thanking all those who have made this work possible. I am grateful to President Nelson Glueck of the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion for his constant encouragement and interest in this work.

Mr. Herbert C. Zafren, the Administrative Secretary of the College Library in Cincinnati, was most courteous and helpful. Mr. Moses Marx, the Head Cataloguer, supervised the work in its entirety. The actual work of compilation and collation was done by Mrs. Harry (Fanny) Berg of the Library staff. My colleague and friend of many years, Rabbi Abraham I. Shinedling, was kind enough to read proof. To all these, once more, my most cordial and heartfelt thanks. Future generations of harassed historians will rise up and call them blessed!

To all the bibliographers, librarians, scholars, and other booklovers who may chance to examine these pages, and who may be prompted to bring forth their own treasures, be assured that the pages of the American Jewish Archives are always open to you. We love bibliographies!

EDA KUHN LOEB

EDA KUHN LOEB was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, on September 13, 1867, one of ten children of Samuel and Regina (Wise) Kuhn. She received the education customarily provided for young women of her social class.

Eda Kuhn married Morris Loeb, the son of Solomon and Betty (Gallenberg) Loeb, on April 3, 1895. Her husband was graduated from Harvard University and received a doctorate from the University of Berlin. In 1891 he was appointed professor of chemistry in New York University, a position he held until his retirement in 1906. During the last two years of his life he served on the Board of Education of the city of New York. He died on October 8, 1912, leaving $500,000 to Harvard University for scientific purposes.

Mrs. Loeb, her husband, and her brother-in-law, James Loeb, represented the high cultural standards of many of the leading families of the time. James Loeb, a scholar on ancient Greece, was the founder of the Loeb Classical Library. Morris Loeb was a competent amateur violinist, while Mrs. Loeb, a patron of music, counted among her friends such notables as Frank Damrosch and Fritz Kreisler. A member of several boards of directors, Mrs. Loeb displayed particular interest in the Loeb Convalescent Home and the Henry Street Settlement.

Mrs. Loeb died in New York City on November 17, 1951.
